

Basic Detail Report

There was a man who worked at Copelands and he lived at 513 West street and then he got a job at the stove factory and now he lives at 1680 Lincolnshire Drive and then he bought a new Oldsmobile and his kids are grown now. One lives in Texas...

Date

1979

Primary Maker

Jack Earl

Materials

Glazed ceramic and china paint

Description

Ceramic sculpture in the form of a realistic, tin garbage can, filled with garbage bag, broken bottle, soda can, milk bottle, trunk of wood and miscellaneous trash. The front of the garbage can is cut away to reveal a forest scene, showing a man sitting by a fire, with a stream, trees, tents, and hills in the background.

Dimensions

(50.8 x 29.8 x 30.5 cm)