Materials

Clay, wax, and water (added when installed)

Description

The piece is a black ceramic in the shape of a pillow, life size, with an indentation in the center as if someone's head had just been resting there. It is installed projecting from a wall, 38 inches from the ground, with no supports. The surface is a smooth, matte black. The edges of the pillow are beveled and very precise. Collected in the center of the pillow is a shallow pool of water.
